THE BEST OF TIMES 1985-1986

The excitement was high in June, 1985 when the new Clinton High School was dedicated. This new wave of excitement continued in August when students and faculties from Clinton Junior and Clinton High came together as a single unit.

It didn't take us long to realize that the new school facility, the merger of students, and the support and confidence of the community had led to the unification and revival of that old Eagle spirit. We were so proud as we looked forward to the beginning of something special—a united front.

With each passing day came new and better things. The middle school organized a Junior Beta and held its first Jump Rope-A-thon. Grambling's Eddie Robinson became the coach with the most win in the history of college football, and, on a larger scale, the first civilian, Christa McAuliffe, a New Hampshire school teacher, was selected to go into space.

SPECIAL TIMES

THE WORST OF TIMES

January, 1986 began with lots of celebration. It was a new year, a new semester, and for the first time, a teacher was about to embark on a new adventure—a trip into space. All that changed on the 28th when the space shuttle "Challenger" exploded seconds after liftoff killing all seven astronauts. Americans everywhere were grief-stricken and felt an overwhelming sense of loss at such an ill-fated tragedy.

The school, community, state and nation were also frequently faced with many disappointments. In addition to the "Goodtimes", adjustments were made in an effort to combat the overcrowded conditions of Clinton Lower Elementary. The Eagles had to face the fact that they were experiencing their first losing season in recent C.H.S. football history.

Along with the pressures of a sagging economy, droughts, and freezes, came the racketeering and fraud trial of Governor Edwards. Though he was acquitted in a second trial, his popularity was severely damaged.

On a larger scale, our nation had to deal with terrorist bombings, high-jackings, mudslides, earthquakes, toxic wastes, child abuse, Apartheid, and AIDS.

Through it all we survived. Our experiences have helped us to face each day and treat it as a "New Beginning."

DREAMS ARE THE FOUNDATION TO SUCCESS

Your dreams can become a reality
But only if you try;
Many people achieve nothing in life
And sometimes wonder why.
Let your dream become your goal,
Success won't be far behind,
You can make it to the top if
You have it in your mind.
Soon you'll find out that hard work pays off,
On it you can depend.
Hard work brings you shocking results
That you'll be proud of in the end.
Dreams are a foundation that success is built upon.
That's all you'll have when you're in this world alone.
Someday you'll look back and admire the work you've done.
You have fought the battle, but the war isn't won.
Dreams give you something to look forward to.
Don't let anyone stop your dreams
Because it's all up to you.
Whatever you do don't ever stop.
Because each and every one of us deserve to get to the top.
Life is hard for us to understand,
But we all know that the world is in our hand.

CLASS FAVORITES

This unique group of students depict a broad spectrum of the diversity found among the seniors at C.H.S. They reached the peak of excitement when they were selected 1986 favorites by their fellow classmates. At right: Marya Hoskins and Calvin Matthews, most likely to succeed; Sandra Shoemaker most popular and most helpful, and Gary Hills, most popular; and Natalie Fields and Gregory George best dressed.

Gwen Jarrell, Most attractive; and Gary Hills, most handsome.

Earl Brown, Zaniest Senior

Dexter Spears and Jackie Shropshire, most athletic.

All class favorites were recognized at their Class Night Activities on May 14, 1986. They each received a certificate and a trophy. At right: Gwendolyn Wyre, most aggressive; Carl Wright and Evangeline Spurlock, most pleasing personality.

ADMINISTRATION

"A New Beginning" or rebirth was our theme this year as we ventured out on a new year, in a new school, with new situations or groupings of classes and a combining of two faculties. This was one experience that I wouldn't have missed for the world. Through turbulent, difficult, and disturbing times we went on to make this the best year ever.

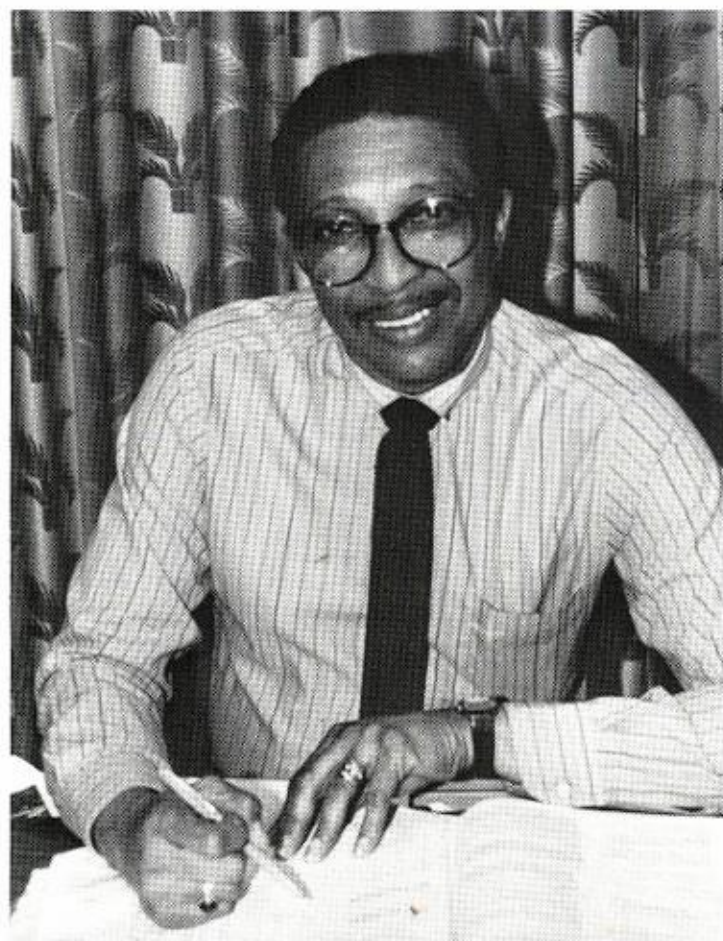

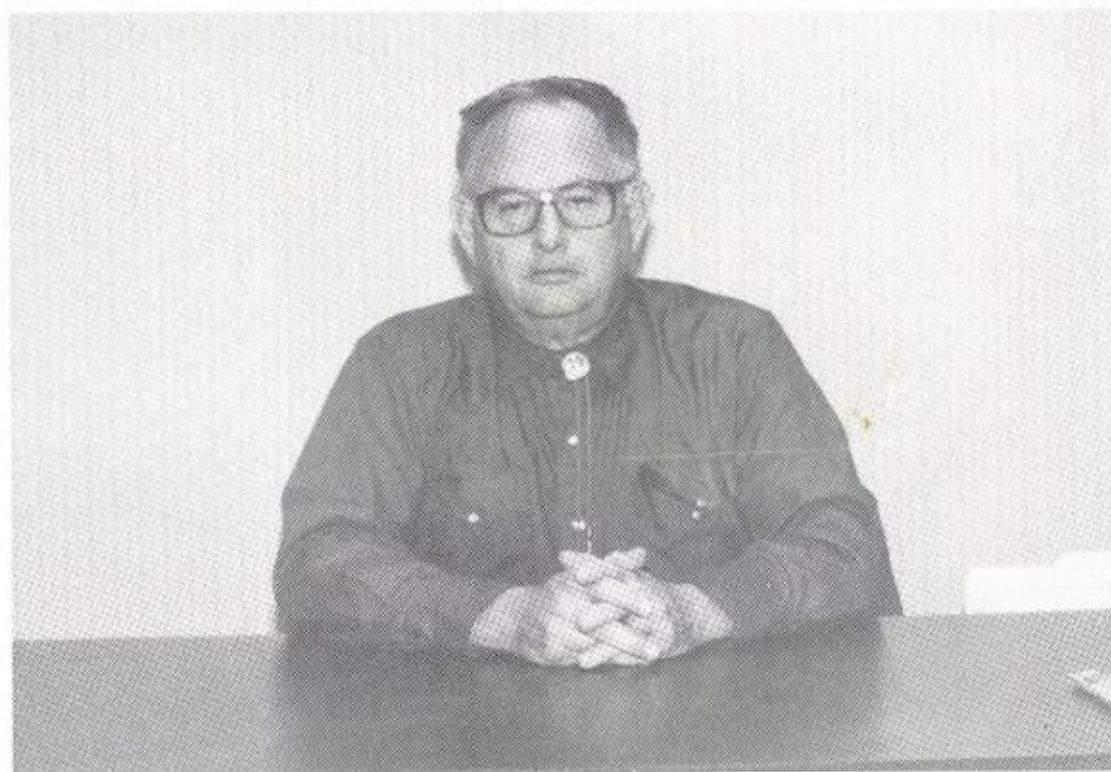

We have made outstanding accomplishments this year, but this is just a sample of things to come. In this decade Clinton High School shall rise to the heights of National recognition academically, musically, and athletically. This is our goal and it is to these ends we dedicate our efforts.

John Harris, Principal

A concerted effort on the part of everyone has resulted in a highly successful first year in our new school building. By working together, we did what we set out to do with a minimum of difficulty. Now we need to look to the future and set ourselves a tougher task-to make next year even better!

Beta is a leadership-service organization for those high school students who possess and exemplify such qualities as leadership, good moral character, high academic achievement, and commendable attitude.

The 1985-86 school year was "A NEW BEGINNING" for Beta. We entered the new Clinton High facility and eagerly worked toward building the prestige of our organization. For the first time Beta contributed to two Nation-wide charities-the Arthritis Foundation and Muscular Dystrophy; sponsored the yearbook, and attended the National Convention in Washington D.C.

Other Beta services and activities included; slave auction, selling candy, donating food items and money to the needy, decorating the school bulletin board, attended district and state conventions, participating on various school programs, and much more.

Staff Members: First row- G. Wyre, M. Knighten, M. Moore, A. Dunn, A. Taylor, R. Williams, Second row- R. Holmes, E. Spurlock, S. Shoemaker, I. Brown, T. Washington, B. Brady. Third row- M. Peterson, T. Peters, H. Tynes, N. Barton, G. Jarrell. Top- K. Charlet, S. Hughes.

Hard work and dedication is the best description for these staff members. Above: Evangeline Spurlock intently scrutinize a photo and photographer, Keith Charlet poses for a shot himself. It was a struggle to meet deadlines, sell ads and books, but with the assistance of loyal and dedicated community supporters, we were able to make our dream a reality.

Angie and Gwen eagerly select photos for the next layout.

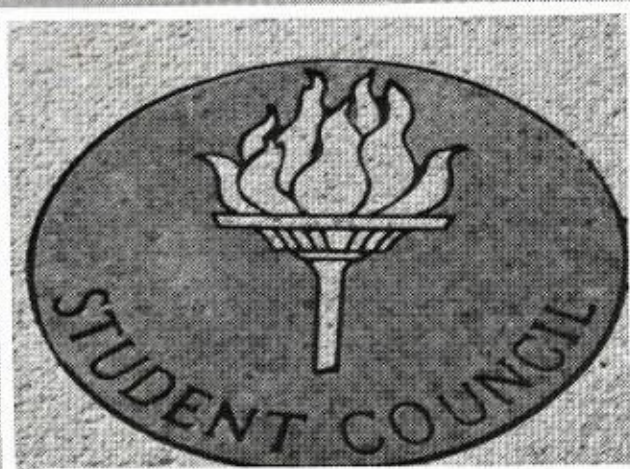

Gwen has this one fingered!

The yearbook staff along with the Beta Club and its sponsors, was full of energy and enthusiasm when the club was first organized in the fall. But all that soon fizzled away, as did most of the members.

Selecting as its book's theme, "A New Beginning" the few remaining staff workers took on the monumental task of publishing the first Eagles' Nest from the New Clinton High with all the determination and piquancy they had.

The Student Council is a service organization designed to help promote school spirit and government for student activities. It was created by the students, for the students, and is the chief representative body on campus.

The officers were elected by the entire student body and worked together, along with their sponsors, to see that projects were carried out smoothly. The council members were very busy this year in an effort to make the student body's stay at the "New Clinton High" a pleasant one.

Since the FBLA merger in the fall, the new CHS organization is bigger and better than ever!

Originally, FBLA was established in Louisiana in 1947 in Natchitoches. Since then the organization has expanded quite rapidly, setting new goals for its followers with each passing year. But the basics of the club still remain:

- To develop competent, aggressive business leaders
- To encourage each other to improve the home & community
- To provide and encourage the development of organized recreational activities, and
- To participate in worthy undertakings for the improvement of business and community.

In the past, our club has been quite active. We have attended several leadership conferences on both district and state level.

The FHA is a national organization for boys and girls who are studying Home Economics in their junior and senior year of high school. The FHA hopes to broaden the interest in Home Economics and encourage friendly association among faculty and students.

Our 1985-86 theme was "A Renaissance of Caring."

Our chapter truly made this year "A New Beginning." Our first-time activities included the FHA Hawaiian Luau and the YAC convention. Our traditional activities were not forgotten and were successfully planned and executed.

HAWAIIAN LUAU

Faculty and guests: Mr. Roy Hayes, E. Williams, D. Williams, B. Hayes, E. Gordon, F. Roddy, H. Franklin, T. Berryhill.

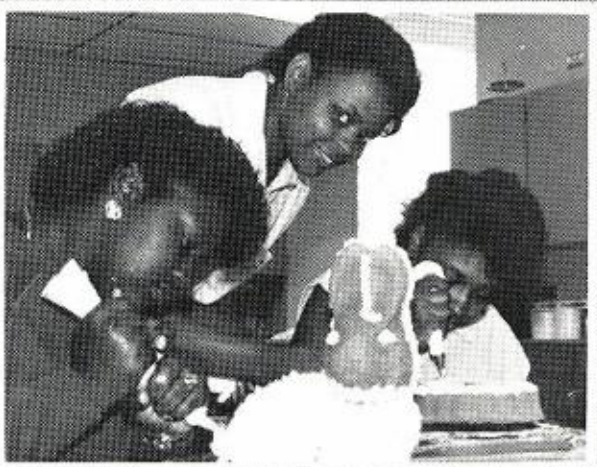

The FHA'ers of Clinton High culminated the school year's activities with an Hawaiian Luau. Members of the club and their guests enjoyed an evening of Hawaiian fanfare. They were fascinated by the decorations, music, and food. The main attraction of the evening, however, was recognition of the most authentic and colorful costumes. Prizes were awarded to the winners. The Luau was the beginning of something new at CHS. Hopefully, it will become a tradition for the organization. It definitely added variety to the school's activities. The Future Farmers of America was organized in 1928 to aid students in developing leadership skills and provide goals for which they are to strive. The FFA is a part of the vocational agricultural system in public schools and is actively administered in every state of the U.S. and Puerto Rico. Students are able to learn skills by participating in various contests and attending leadership camp, as well as the state and national conventions. Also, the FFA allows students to earn money and learn how to invest it wisely through the Supervised Occupational Experience Program.

The Science Clubs of C.H.S. and Clinton Junior High successfully merged at the beginning of the 1985-86 school year. The new Clinton High Club rapidly grew in size. Its membership was comprised of more than fifty students who made it their goal to improve their scientific knowledge and skills through research, field trips, investigations, and lectures.

The club showed its usual spirit by participating in numerous activities which were beneficial to the school and the community.

The Club members were quite enthusiastic in October and November as they prepared for Homecoming and Thanksgiving. Supplying a food basket for a needy family was one of their greatest joys.

Mr. R. Sands, the club's originator and sponsor, and Mrs. E. Clark, sponsor, were instrumental in planning and executing the club's biggest project of the year—a field trip to Johnson Space Center in Houston, Texas. This was one of their many efforts at aiding the students in being able to answer the why and how of today's scientific world.

S.A.D.

Sandra Shoemaker, District President of S.A.D.

Students Against Drugs began during the 1985-86 school session. It was organized by our Supervisor of Child Welfare, Mr. Robert Bingham.

Clinton High recognized the need for such a program. Hope Wallace and Sandra Shoemaker were elected to be our representatives. Sandra was later elected District President of S.A.D. Mr. J. Woodard was our advisor. The specific intent of the program was to broaden the students' knowledge of drugs, their usage, and after effects.

4-H PLEDGE

I pledge:

My head to clearer thinking
 My heart to greater loyalty
 My hands to larger service, and
 My health to better living for
 My club, my community,
 my country, and my world.

The CHS Chess Club was organized in July of 1985. It was originally sponsored by the Charlet Funeral Home, which furnished the club with the materials it needed to become active. When school opened, Mrs. Lynn Quigley, former English teacher at CHS, agreed to act as sponsor.

Thus far, the club has participated in tournaments in Jackson and here at CHS.

C.H.S. MARCHING BAND

The Clinton, the Eagle band is a household word. The sounds, performance, style, and formation techniques have captivated audiences for more than a decade.

For the band, 1985-86 was a spectacular season!

In the up-coming year, the band will indeed see "A New Beginning." For the first time in 13 years all members will have the same uniform. With the sponsorship of the Band Booster Club, the support from the community, and the hard work and determination of Mr. Lawrence Jackson, this dream has become a reality.

Brandi dances to the tune, "Swing Low". Gary, Brandi, and Yulonda says, "High stepping is our style." Below: Gwen Wyre and the "Screamin' Demons".

The CHS Band is a real crowd pleaser. In the top photo, a pep rally crowd is charmed by one of their finest tunes. At left: the maestro himself, Mr. Lawrence Jackson. Above: Drum major, Ronald Williams looks over the opposition as he leads the Eagle Band into the Jaguars' Den. Doug Delatte turns the crowd with his fancy steps and grooming style.

The Clinton High and Middle Schools combined have more than 300 students in the band program. There are 110 students in the Marching Band and 72 students in the Symphonic Concert Band. Under Mr. Jackson, the band director, this very talented and dynamic group of young people have attained some of the highest honors in the area of musical achievement.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Artis Pinkney, Head coach

Willie Lee, Defensive coach

Alfred Douglas, Coaches Assistant

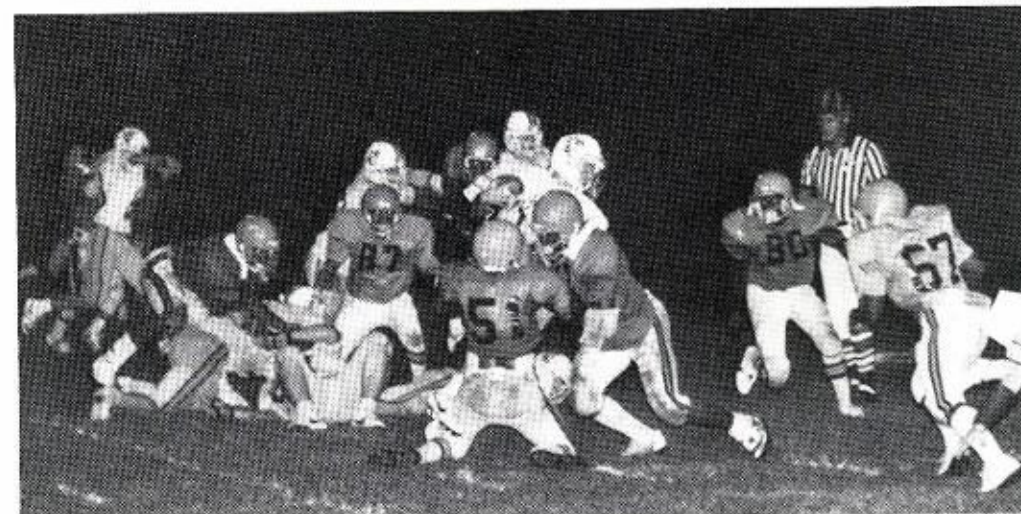

The Clinton Eagles started the 1985 football campaign amid changes in the coaching staff and offensive set. Though these changes were sudden, the Eagle players and coaches were high spirited, optimistic, and enthusiastic about the up-coming season.

In the first two games, the Eagles faced state championship teams-the Southern High Kittens and the Ferriday Trojans. Both times they were unsuccessful in their bid for victory. The losses shocked the Eagle fans and caused the morale of the team to decline.

The Eagles went on to compile a 1 and 9 record. All hope for another in a long line of district titles faded. It became evident that the school and the community was experiencing, for the first time in history, a losing season at CHS.

Through all of this, the Eagles never gave up-completely. The cry began, "Wait until next year!"

With a good group of players returning and solid community support, assuredly the Eagles will regain their Rightful place as Champions of District 9-AA.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

Just because you are labeled "junior" does not necessarily mean that you can't be a man around the house. The Clinton High JV Basketball Team proved that to be a true statement during the 1985-86 season.

Jimmy George, JV captain, and the rest of his teammates had an outstanding season. Their ability and skill on the court was indicative of what the future team will be like. They had all the necessary ingredients (speed, finesse, height, and strength) for an all-star team.

Darren Matthews takes it to the hoop.

A BANNER SEASON

The Lady Eagles basketball team finished the 1985-86 season with one of the most successful seasons with a 25-3 record winning the 9-AA District Championship and advancing to the state regional playoffs.

Iris Douglas, selected to the all district squad, led the team in steals and scoring; Alisa Dunn selected honorable mention was a very good defensive specialist and the team's best free throw shooter; Iris Brown the Lady Eagles MVP led the team in block shots, forced turnovers and most defensive rebounds.

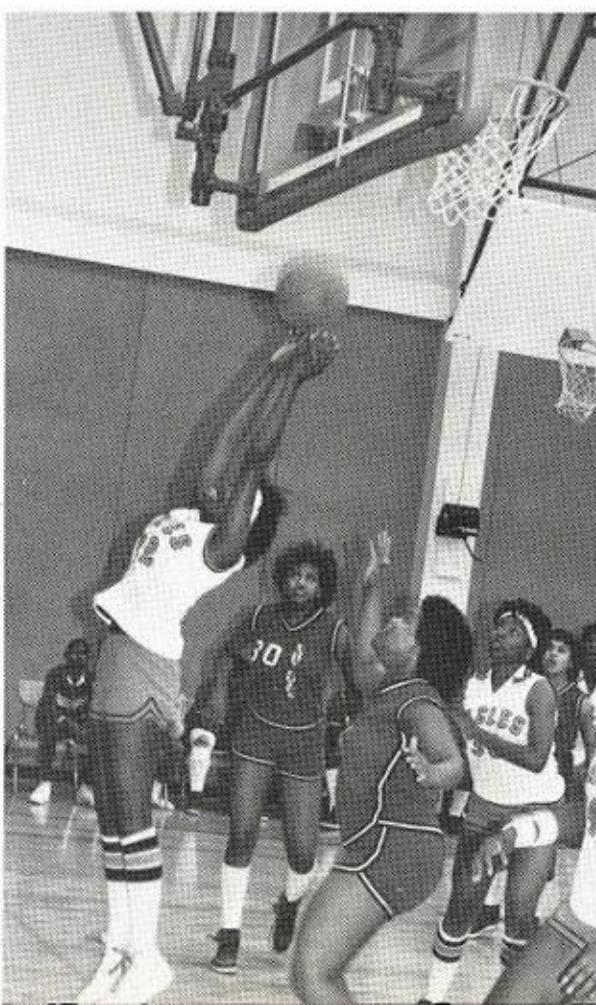

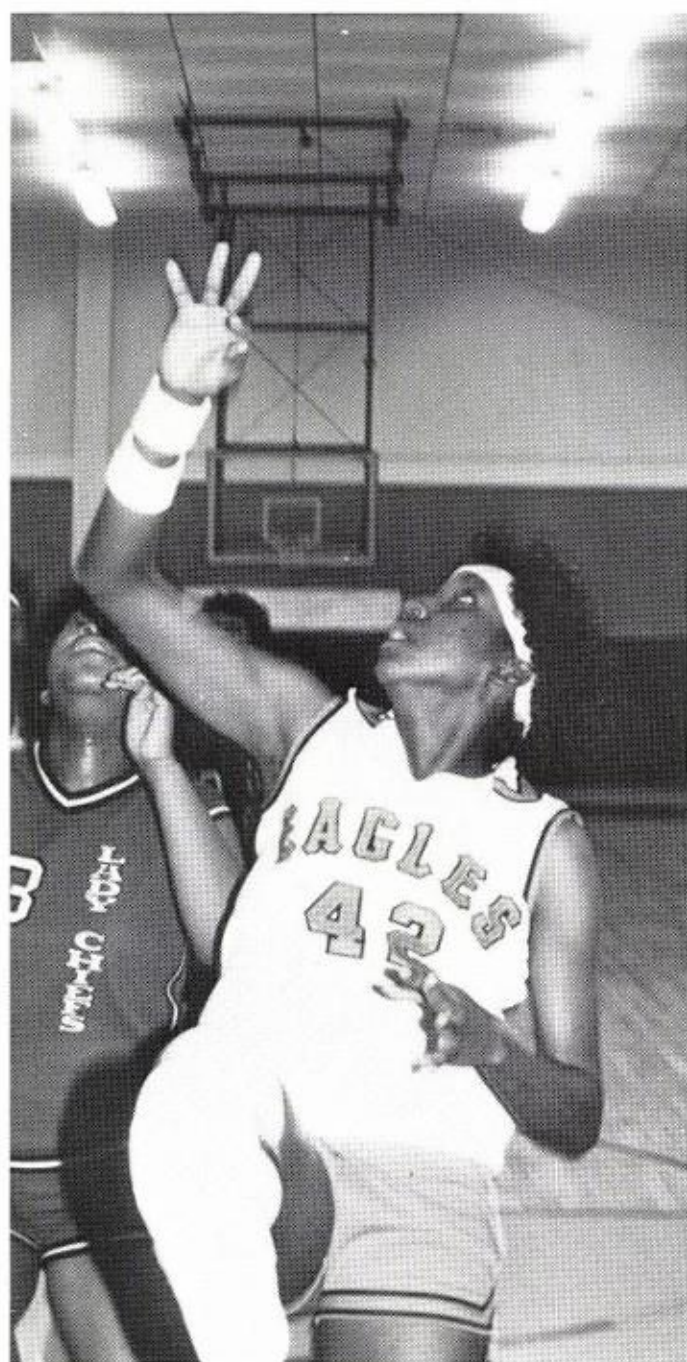

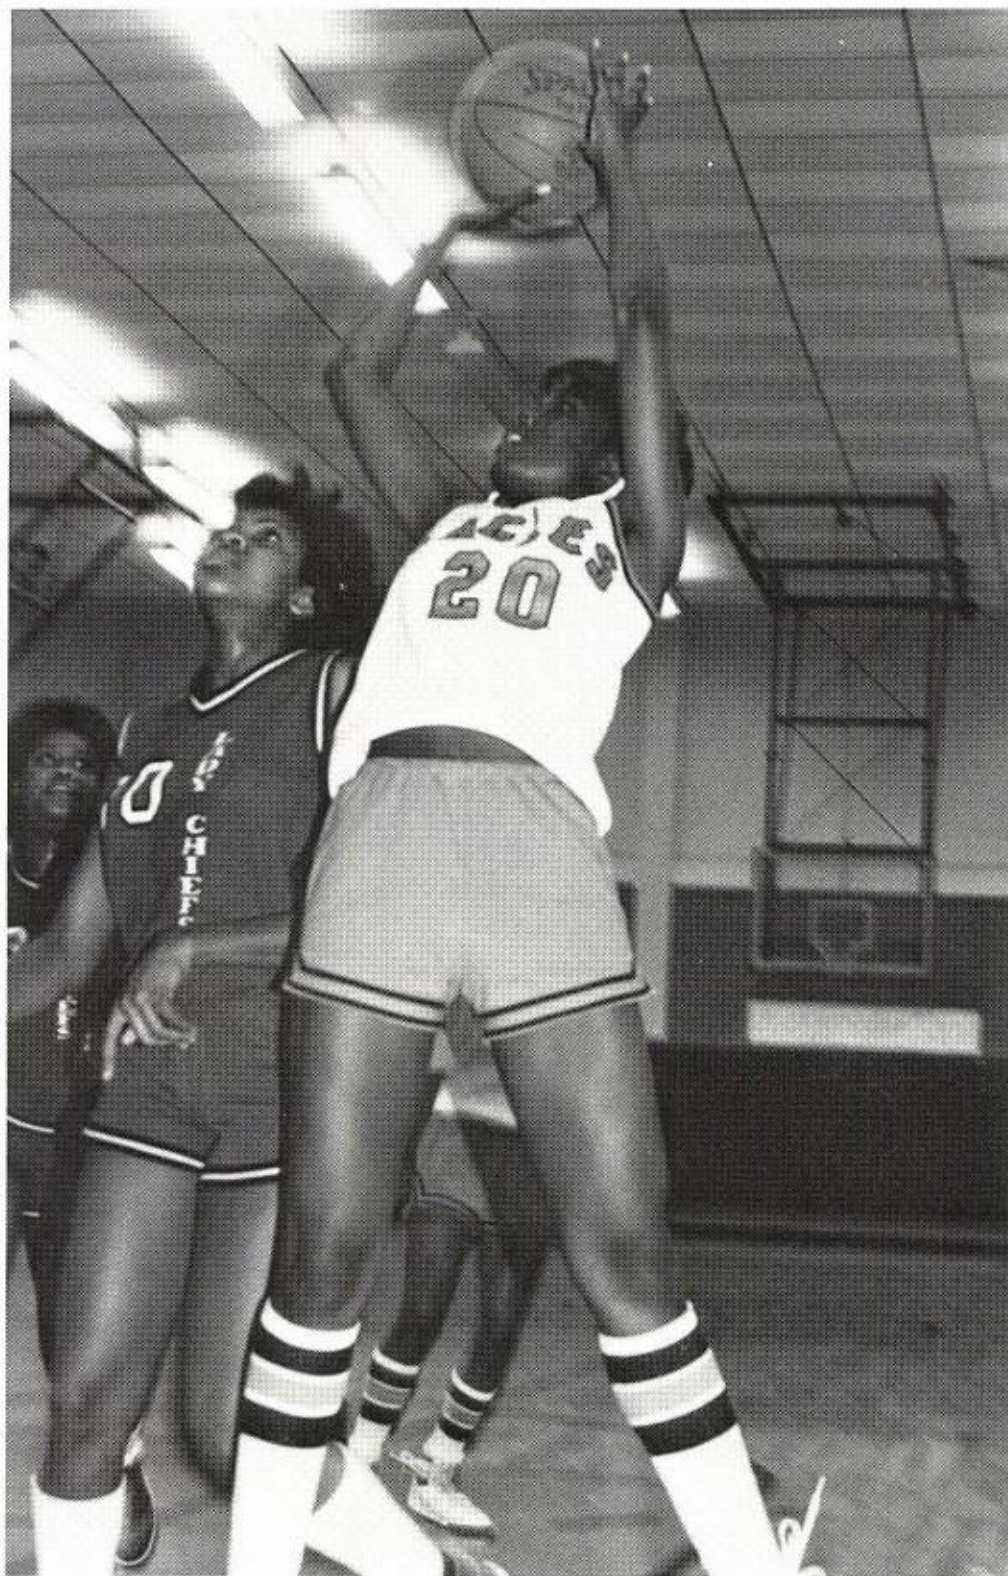

Back: Coach Alfred Douglas, Carol Bowers, Jacqueline Shropshire, Brenda Shropshire, Iris Douglas, Alisa Dunn, Iris Brown. Front: Shelita Spears, Krystal Bell, Emily Branch, and Sharon Shropshire. Senior J. Shropshire was selected MVP and Clinton's first athlete to participate in the All-Star game.

Coach Artis Pinkney

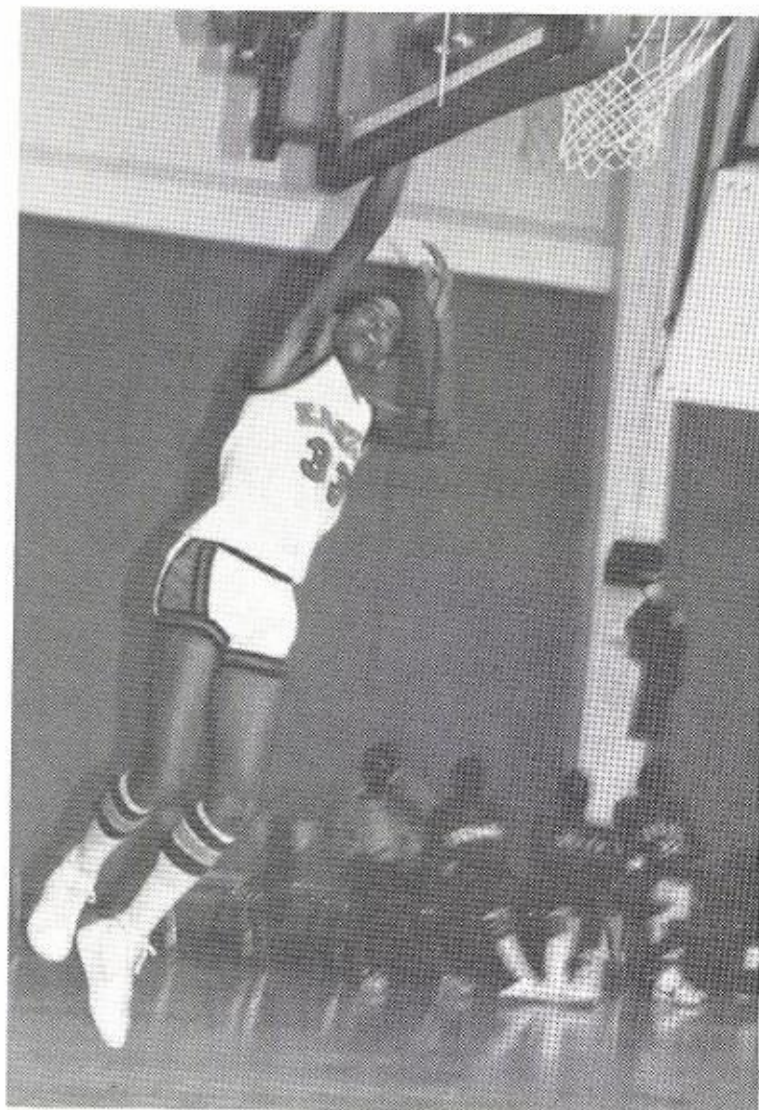

The team posted the best record of any wild card team in the state at 10-4. It went 7-0 on its home court and extended its home record to 12-1. Known as the "Bruise Brothers," the team warmed up to the hit tune, "Soul Man" by Sam and Dave. First Row: Derald Spears, Dexter Spears, Wesley Sanders, Ron Taylor, Wesley Sanders, Ron Taylor, and Bradley Davis. Second row: Artis Pinkney, coach; Johnny Love, Raymond, Jimmy George, and Ron Jarrell.

FOURTH IN STATE MEET

The Lady Eagles finished fourth in the 1986 Louisiana State AA Track and Field Meet winning the 400 and 800 meter relays. They finished second in the 200 meter dash and fourth in the 100 meter dash and 1600 meter relay.

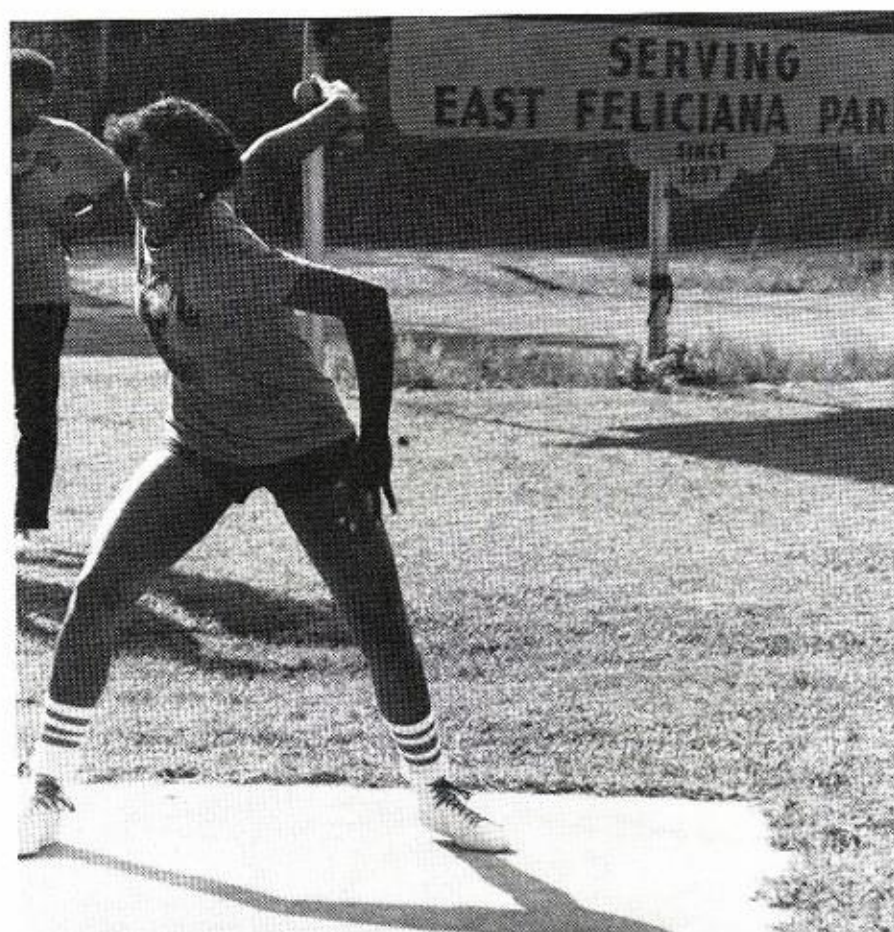

Running on the two championship relays were sophomore, Mary Brown; juniors, Leslie Cheatham and Roxie Cheatham; and senior, Marvetta Moore. Roxie ran in the 100 and 200 meter dashes. Sophomore Tasha Cherry, along with Brown, L. Cheatham and Moore ran on the 1600 meter relay.

Overall, the Lady Eagles performed well despite some nagging injuries to key members. They won two meets-Lutcher's Invitational and the Clinton Relays. They finished 2nd in the Strawberry Relays and at the district Meet.

Roxie Cheatham who competed in the 100 and 200 meter dashes, and anchored the 400 and 800 meter relays was the top point lady for the Eagles. She was followed by Marvetta Moore who ran the hurdles and the 400, 800 and 1600 meter relays.

Senior, Iris Brown set a school record by throwing the discus 103'4". Freshman, Carol Bowers set another in high jumping. She cleared 4'11".

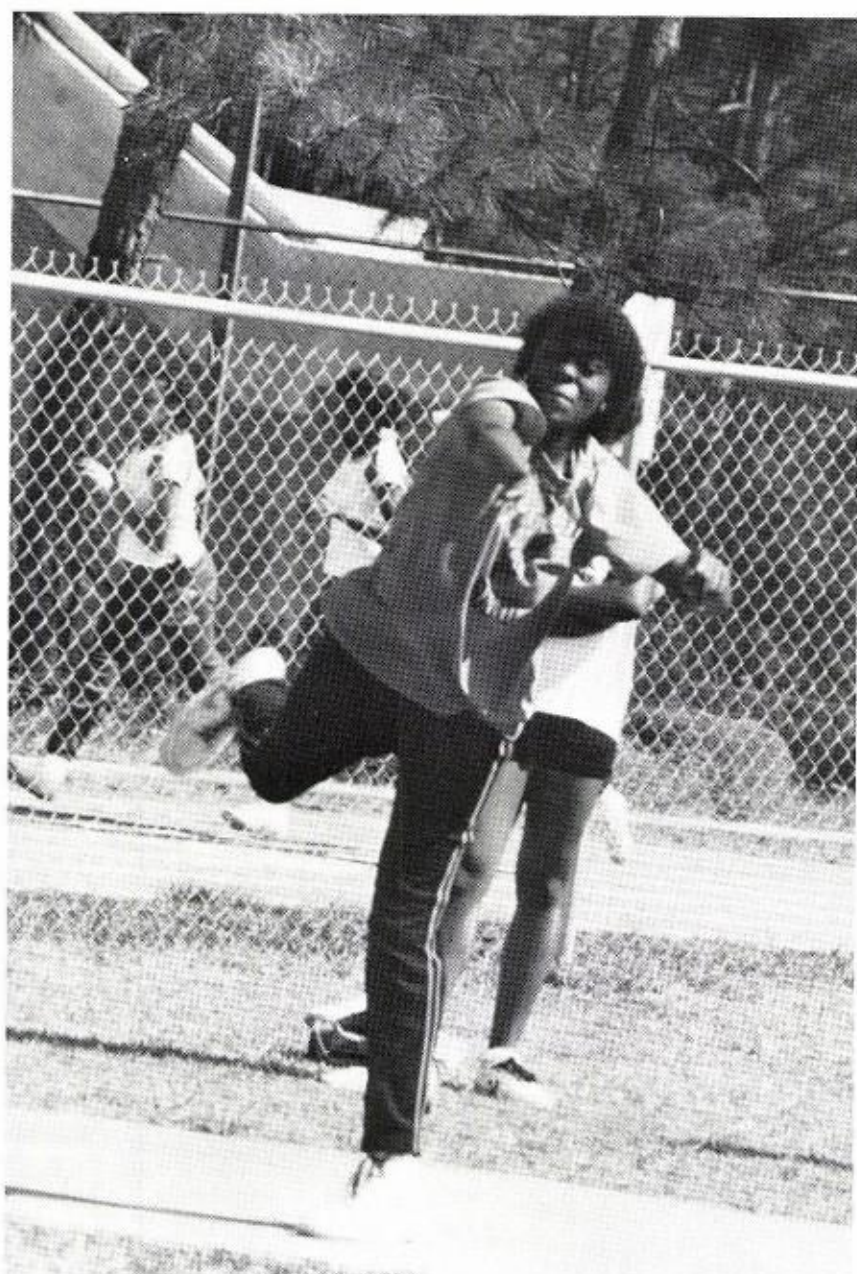

All of the Lady Eagles will be returning next year except Moore, Brown, and Dunn for another winning season-hopefully.

CHEERLEADERS

Homecoming here at CHS was the highlight of the football season. Our Homecoming Court consisted of nine beautiful CHS students. After overcoming the fear of possibly not having an annual homecoming parade, and the grim reality of an unsuccessful football season, the students, faculty, parents and the community banded together in unity to make the 1985 activity one of the best.

Seeing the many smiling faces and hearing the words of encouragement made the Eagle family feel that their efforts were not in vain! With the theme "Halloween at CHS" the Eagles paraded in style.

CAMPUS LIFE

Campus life at CHS is centered around academic achievement. Though academics are stressed students are encouraged to become involved and enjoy themselves. There are many activities available that afford them an outlet for their many talents. The varying attitudes and personalities of the student body fuse together to form the mighty "CHS", something of which they are very proud.

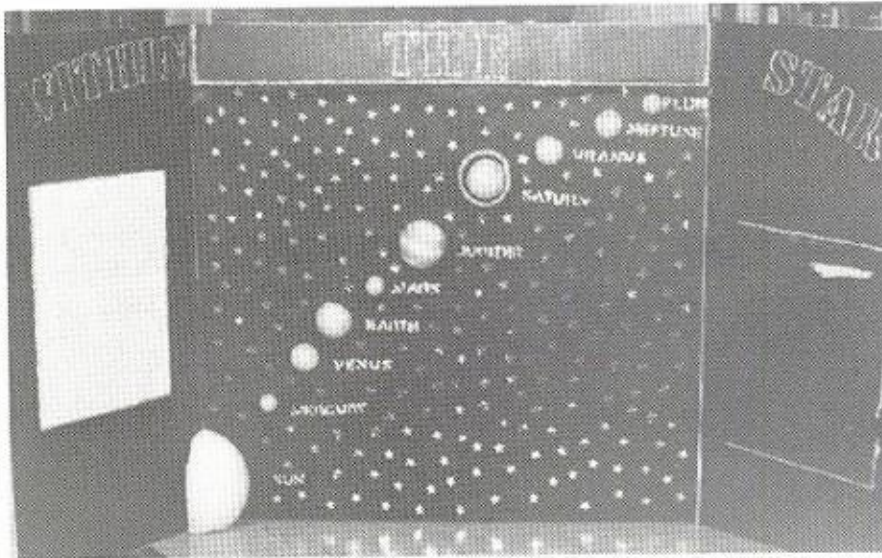

One of the favorite times of the day is lunch break when students have the opportunity to converse, become better acquainted, and be themselves.

PROJECTS AND FAIRS

Holiday goodies and symbols are beautifully displayed by Mrs. Matthews' English III students as a part of their class studies on holiday customs and their importance.

The second semester at CHS is filled with projects, fairs, and hard work. The above Science Fair displays are the pride and joy of Mr. Reclay Sands, fair sponsor. Dawn Thomason's "The Water Cycle" captured an easy first. Theresa Bozeman's "Within the Stars" was an eyecatcher also.

Sandra Dunn, Betty Barnes, Lesia Knighten, Michael T. Johnson, and Claudette London sweeten things up a little with these attractively decorated bunny cakes.

SOCIAL STUDIES

With each passing year, Mrs. D. Williams' social studies improve on their project displays. This year was no exception. For the first time over 100 projects entered into competition. From those, eleven were selected to compete in district at LSU. All participants came home a winner. Above: Tim Jones displays a fair favorite-"Acid Rain."

Brandi Brady, a state fair competitor, captures the attention of both local and district judges with this in-depth and very creative anthropology display.

THOSE SPECIAL DAYS

The notorious auctioneer, Gordon Peters tests the muscles of Beta slave, Stacy Hughes.

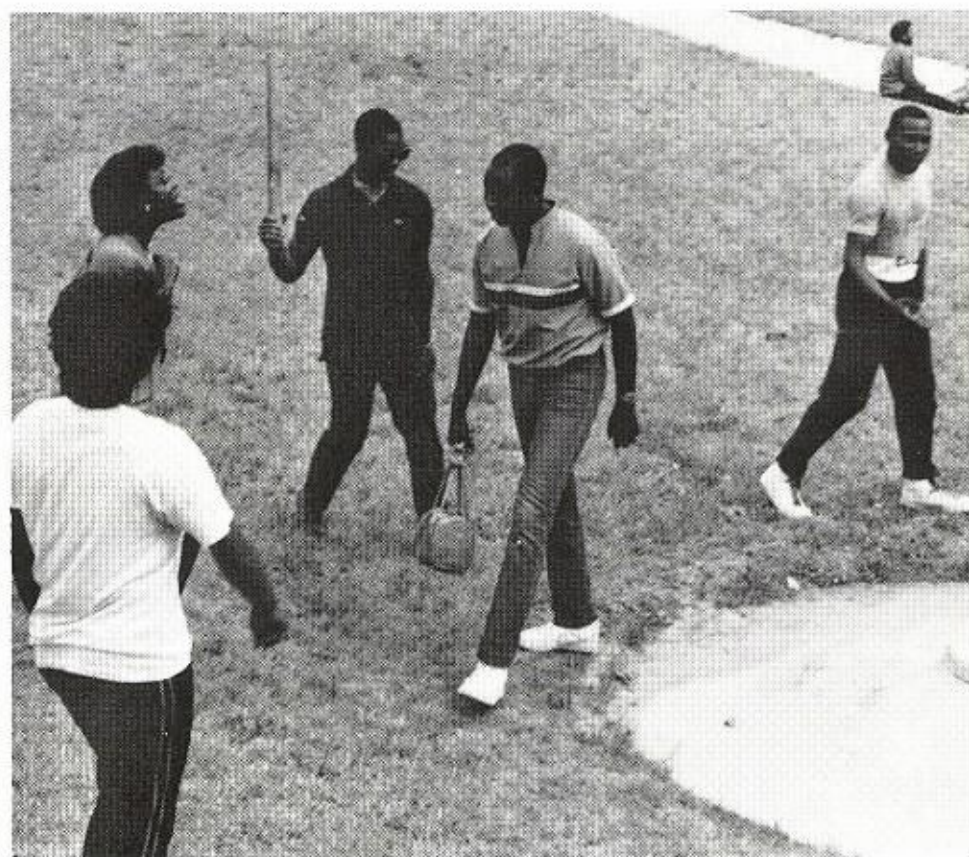

Kiddie's Day was a hit at CHS, with Nicole Charlet, Timmy Peters, Keith Charlet, Stacy Hughes, Hatcher Tynes, and Brandy Brady.

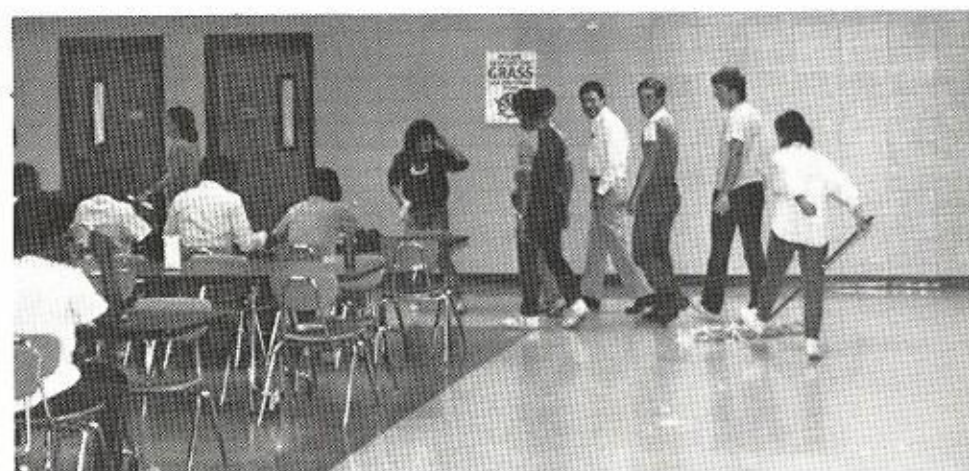

"These boots just won't shine," said slave, Dawn Wallace to Master, Barry Pickett. At right, Marya Hoskins cleans up the confetti trail of masters Doug, Keith, Barry, Matthew, and Beauchamp.

The academic structure at Clinton High remained intact and became more solid with the fusing of diverse intellects from Clinton Junior High and Clinton High School.

Striving for scholastic excellence continued to be the focal point of both the teachers and the students.

As the school year began in August, plans got underway for up-coming competitions. Students approached all events with the confidence of succeeding and of being ranked among the best in the state.

WITHIN THESE WALLS . . .

THE STORY OF CLINTON HIGH SCHOOL

1938-1985

"Toler Hatcher 1938. First year in new school."

" . . . . They showed us a picture (which turned out to be an artist's rendering) of the new school. I didn't understand how they had a picture of a school that hadn't been built yet. My grandfather (E. L. Dunn then president of the school board) finally made me understand. That picture is now at the "new" new school." H. Toler Hatcher 1948.

The "New" Clinton High School was commissioned by the Parish school board early in 1938. Members of the board were: Mrs. J. P. Carruth, Mrs. J. W. Ross, A. F. Gutzzeit, C. C. Chapman, J. L. Street, J. W. Gersch, C. E. Gillum, W. P. Sowell, and E. L. Dunn, president. Herman J. Duncan & Co., Architects, of Alexandria, La. drew the plans. The contractor was W. M. Bozeman of Covington, La. who bid $37,000 for the job. Construction took only four months. At the beginning of the 1938-39 school year the students marched from their old wood frame building on Bank St. to the new brick structure on Plank Rd.

The design of the new school was up-to-date and incorporated steam heat. Much thought was given by the adults in the educational system to inspiring the proper awe and respect for the wonderful new facility in the consciousness of the young people who would benefit from its modern design and conveniences. The reaction of these pupils, even after nearly fifty years, is uniformly one of feeling fortunate to have been privileged to go to school in such a fine edifice, surrounded at every turn by tangible proof of how much their elders cared for their education and hoped for their success. After all, a school building is just that, the tangible sign of one generation's investment of hope in future generations. The red well.

WITHIN THESE WALLS . . .

The story of a school is the story of people. The history of the world, the state, even the parish goes on around it, but it is a world apart. Then, when each class graduates, it passes into memory, and memory takes on a life of its own. To write the story of the forty-seven years in the red brick school we asked a member of each class to give a memory, and we mixed in a history of the times. Sometimes the forces of history broke into the consciousness of the school, but usually not. The simple realities of high school, football, proms, teachers, pranks prevail from earliest to latest days. Here we begin.

1939-The governor of the state of Louisiana (Richard Leche) would soon resign his office under a cloud. Franklin Roosevelt, a charismatic popular president, was in his second term, Germany and Italy, threatening war in Europe signed a military alliance, and Clinton High School graduated its first class from the new red brick on Plank Road.

Arch Doughty '39: "Our new school with its whopping big auditorium was the finest school in the world to us after our years in the old white frame school."

1940-War had broken out in Europe after Germany invaded Poland. Earl K. Long, Leche's Lt. Governor was serving out Leche's term as governor while Leche served time in prison. Wendell Wilkie and F.D.R. squared off in the Presidential elections, and Germany invaded Belgium. The class of 1940 graduated at CHS.

Mildred Beauchamp (Villareal) '40: "Our junior-senior picnic out at Mrs. Martin Young's lake was rained on and nearly flooded out. We all scrambled under a flat-bed truck to eat. Our banquet was held in the Gulf States building next to Hubbs' Cafe. The boy who sat next to me had a fly in his tea. We all thought that was so funny. Our graduation was memorable because the girls wore white dresses and carried roses, and it was so hot."

Rex Record (41)

1941-The Battle of Britain, pitting Hitler's Luftwaffe against the spunky British, was raging. The U.S. stepped up military preparedness as Roosevelt began his third term. Sam Jones became governor, and the Class of 1941 passed onto the state of local history.

Charles F. "Rex" Record, Jr., '41: "Dick Munson, Skeet McKnight, Hollice Jackson and others were with me on the first football team. My class picked the mascot and colors. We went to play Port Sulphur which was supposed to be the best six-man team in the state and "Prof." (Rogers) surprised us with brand new uniforms. We beat Port Sulphur 32-28. No way could we lose in those new uniforms."

1942-The bombing of Pearl Harbor in December, 1941, brought our nation into war. The Selective Service draft of ages 20-44 began. The U.S. was immediately involved in battles in the Pacific, and Bataan fell involving its defenders, including some local men, in the infamous "Death March." Despite this grim world picture life still went on at CHS, and the 1942 class "finished."

W. Conner Percy, Sr. '42+ "The first thing that comes to my mind is Rex Record and Ed Partin fighting-all the time."

1943-The draft age was lowered to 18. Enrico Fermi demonstrated the feasibility of atomic reactions at the University of Chicago. Roosevelt signed a presidential order for non-discrimination by race in companies seeking war contracts. The date was set for D-Day. The war crept closer to the Class of '43.

Jean Butler (Montgomery) '43: "We entered the new building in the 7th grade. It was brand new and so wonderful. When I graduated, we were all concerned about the war. The girls wore their first long dresses to graduation, but the two boys in our class didn't bother to buy new suits because they were headed for the service."

1944-Jimmie Davis ran and won the governor's race with the theme "Peace and Harmony." Governor Dewey was nominated to run against F.D.R. The Allies controlled Southern Italy and North Africa and were on the initiative in all theatrics of war. D-Day was about to take place.

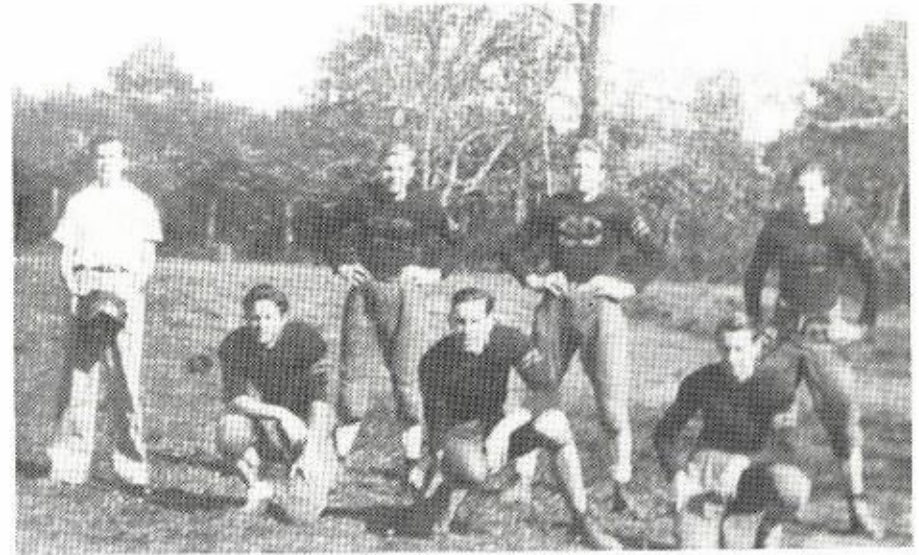

W. G. "Buck" Powell, Jr. '44: "The best years of my life! I went to L.S.U. briefly after high school and then into the navy in February 1945. I was so eager to get into uniform. Of course, the war was all but over when I got in. The enemy heard I was coming and gave up!"

Jean Butler ('43) in her graduation dress.

1945-The last major German counter offensive of the war, The Battle of the Bulge, had been launched the previous December. The Germans were pretty well beaten by the time the small senior class of '45 was due to march down the aisle. FDR died. Truman was sworn in. Suddenly the war in Europe was over. The class of 1945 was all female.

Diane Buchanan (Winter) '45: "I moved here and found no school newspaper and no boys. There were only six girls from Wilson, Alareen Matthews, and I. The other girls wore make-up, and we didn't. I had been to school in Chicago and New Orleans, and it was quite a come-down. A pretty bad year!"

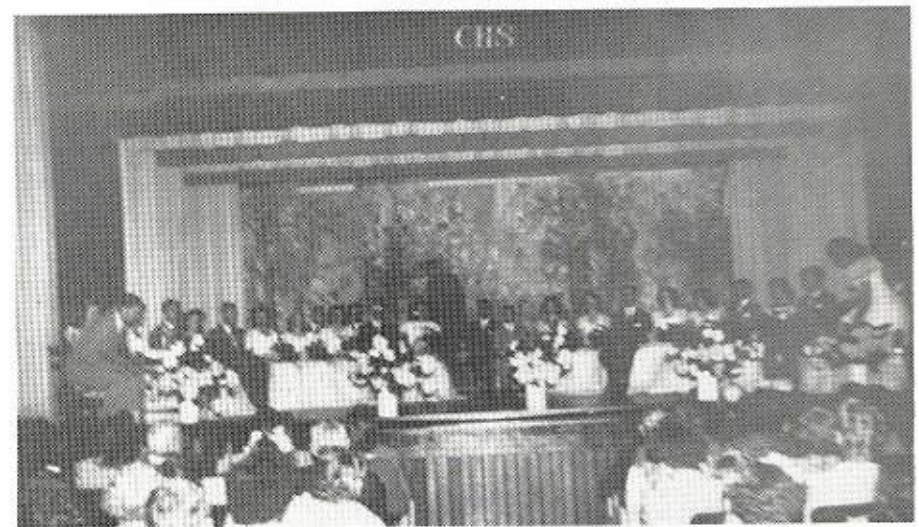

The six-man football team of 1943.

1946-The atom bomb had been dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki in August of 1945 bringing World War II to an end. Rationing ended. Winston Churchill coined the phrase "Iron Curtain" at a speech given at Fulton, Mo. The Chinese Civil War heated up. In Clinton the first postwar class was graduated.

Wm. F. "Billy" Kline, Jr. '46: "We were so impressed with the size of the school and the steam heat instead of the pot bellied stove. As the kids say today, it was just awesome."

1947-The wartime draft ended. Jackie Robinson became the first Negro player in baseball's major leagues. The Marshall Plan for the economic revitalization of Europe was formulated. Down the aisle of the auditorium came the Class of 1947.

Alice M. Dawson (Hatcher) '47: "I'll never forget Mr. Rogers, our principal. He was unforgettable."

Graduation for the Class of '47.

1948-With Earl K. Long's attainment of a full term as Louisiana's governor, colorful Long politics returned. The Koreans moved closer to war. Israel became a nation. Thomas Dewey ran against President Truman. The tenth class of graduates of the "new" high school stepped out into the "real" world.

H. Toler Hatcher '48: "I remember going to the "new school" in the second grade. Before the school was even built the teachers walked the little children over to the site to show us where our new school would be. I also remember that my class was the last to only go eleven years."

The Class of '48 before their big moment.

1949-Truman won a tight presidential race and was inaugurated as the Korean War began. NATO was formed. The new Clinton High School began its second decade.

Robert Hodges '49: The old high school building was the handsomest building constructed in Clinton in this century. Will it be destroyed? The word to describe my career at Clinton High: 'dismal.'"

1950-President Truman announced plans to build a hydrogen bomb. U.S. troops were sent to Korea, and military advisors and financial aid were sent to Vietnam. The first class to complete twelve grades graduates.

Bea Gross (Moffitt) '50: My class was the first to go twelve years. The class before was still made up of people who were supposed to go eleven years. We had an hour for lunch, but there was no lunchroom. We would sit under the big pecan trees in good weather to eat lunch."

1951-Puerto Rican nationalists unsuccessfully attempted to assassinate President Truman. Tranquilizers were introduced, perhaps to combat nuclear age stress. The Rosenbergs were tried and sentenced to death for atomic spying. General MacArthur was relieved of his command in Korea. The war raged on. A fresh bunch of graduates, Class of '51, took the long walk to the future.

Rupert Thompson '51: "I'll never forget the sight of Miss Sue Record chasing Clarence "Beetle" Lee up the stairs, hitting at him with her purse, or how hot, sweaty, and stinky it would get down in the basement."

Moody Adams ('49) George Rogers ('52) and Sid White ('50) on the front steps.

Clarence "Beetle" Lee ('51), Rupert Thompson ('51), and Eddie Clemmons ('51) of the 1950 Eagle team.

1952-General Eisenhower, the Republican nominee squared off against governor Adlai Stevenson, Democrat, in the 1952 presidential campaign. The party nominating conventions were televised for the first time. Race and reform were issues in the Louisiana governor's contest which was won by Judge Robert F. Kennon. The also-rans included the first black (Kermit A. Parker) and the first female (Lucille May Grace) candidates. The Class of 1952 graduated.

Edgar Williams '52: "Coach M. Ney Williams talked Charles Callcott, George Ray Boeneke, and me into staying an extra semester to play football and stay out of the Korean War. I took four shop courses."

1953-Eisenhower, newly elected President, went to Korea where numerous attempts at peace finally bore fruit. The Tideland Oil Bill was signed with Louisiana contesting the three mile limit of its coastal waters. Dr. Alton Oschner reported on the link between smoking and lung cancer. Elvis Presley began his climb to stardom, ushering in the Rock n' Roll era. The Seniors of '53 were finally out.

Becky Covington (Cunningham) '53: "We were carefree. We had fun in school. Football provided lots of fun, especially the state champions of 1950. The stage in the auditorium was the center of all activities, graduation, plays, parties. I have fond memories of the whole high school experience, especially some of the teachers-Miss Sue Record, Mr. Roddy, and Mrs. Rogers."

1954-Sen. Joseph McCarthy embarked on a national tour to expose what he called "the 20 years of treason of the Democratic Party." Senate hearings and "blacklists" soon followed. President Eisenhower warned Americans against "thought control." Gov. Kennon cracked down on gambling in Louisiana. Later in the year Sen. McCarthy was censured, and the Supreme Court (in Brown v. Board of Education of Topeka, Kansas) reversed the doctrine of "separate-but-equal" in schools. Life went on as usual at Clinton High School with graduation for the Class of '54.

Nelwynne Hatcher (Tynes) '54: "There was no P.E. teacher, so I decided to become a P.E. teacher and return to Clinton and teach. When we were in the 1st and 2nd grades after a rain we would roll down the hill where the Home Ec. building was later built. The games-basketball and volleyball-outside on the dirt courts were lots of fun. We had good clean fun, no drugs, no drinking. We were a close class."

1955-The U.S. Supreme Court ordered "all deliberate speed" in desegregating public schools. Dr. Jonas Salk developed a vaccine against polio. The U.S. continued to send financial aid to Laos, Cambodia, and Vietnam. Israel and Egypt clashed in the Gaza Strip.

H. H. "Mickey" Forrester, Jr. '55: "I remember the basement where we'd 'hot box' cigarettes. Mr. John Rogers told me I'd never last a year at college but I finished with honors at S.L.I."

The F.B.L.A. goes to Washington, 1956.

1956-Dr. Martin Luther King led the Montgomery, Alabama, bus boycott while school desegregation cases sprung up all over the place. Earl K. Long defeated de Lesseps S. "Chip" Morrison to win his third gubernatorial term. Stevenson and Eisenhower squared off for a rematch in the presidential campaign. The Class of '56 strode forth to meet the challenge of the future.

Sheila Lytle (Moore) '56: "I remember so many things: the auditorium and our class song, "You'll Never Walk Alone"; Miss Wilda and all her plants. She'd stand in the door between her two rooms giving a typing assignment to one class and a chemistry lecture to another; Mrs. Rogers and those history scrapbooks we slaved over and were so proud of. She taught us French I, and we all took French II so she'd cook us some more crawfish bisque."

1957-President Eisenhower was inaugurated for a second term. The Suez Canal, closed in late 1956 during the Suez Crisis, reopened. A civil rights bill, the first passed by Congress since 1875 passed despite a filibuster. The "beat generation" was born. No beatniks at CHS, though, in the Class of '57.

Clyde Louis Carter '57: "We were read to-a lot. In the fourth grade it was Mrs. Dupuy and "Miss Minerva," and even when we were juniors and seniors Miss Sue Record still read to us.

I especially remember Mrs. Cap Haynes's class's trip to New Orleans. We earned the money to go by selling pralines we made at her house. Nobody's pralines were as good as hers."

1958-The frightening reality of dealing with school desegregation came closer to Clinton as Eisenhower's use of federal troops to enforce desegregation at Little Rock Central High escalated the conflict between civil rights and states' rights. Sputnik (launched in Oct., 1957) was followed by the U.S.'s Explorer I. The space race had begun. The Class of '58 moved out into an increasingly complicated world.

Zach Hatcher '58: "Clinton High was really a capsule of 50's grass roots America with emphasis on good grades, football, dating, the usual things. I swore if I ever got out I'd never go back, and I have only been back a few times, but I now appreciate what I didn't then and couldn't wait to get away from."

WITHIN THESE WALLS ...

The F.H.A. officers of 1957-58.

1959-Alaska and Hawaii were admitted as the 49th and 50th states. Seven astronauts, chosen for "the right stuff" began NASA's training program. Gov. Long brought national notoriety to the state when he was confined to mental institutions after a bizarre episode addressing the legislature. Poised on the brink of the sixties (though nobody thought that way then) the Class of '59 graduated.

"DB" Dorman Bunch '59: "I remember one time I imitated Mr. Rogers' 'peg-leg walk' going down the basement stairs. I swung open the boy's bathroom door and you should have seen how fast the boys stubbed out cigarettes."

Beauties in the Home Ec. parlor, 1960.

1960-Jimmie Davis took office as governor during an economic recession. The Civil Rights Acts of 1960, concerning voting rights passed Congress. Francis Gary Powers's U-Z spy plane was shot down over Russia. Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice-President Richard Nixon were nominated for the presidency and for the first class of the 60's, the 22nd class to walk down the aisle in the red brick school, graduated.

Dixie Davis (Jenkins) '60: "Mr. John Rogers took a personal interest in me, a shy, backward child from the country and helped me to realize I was a person with potential. He'd call me in the office and talk to me. He forced me to get out and do things."

1961-John F. Kennedy, the first Roman Catholic and youngest man ever to be elected President, was inaugurated. The Peace Corps was established. The Bay of Pigs fiasco embarrassed the U.S. Mobs attacked busloads of "Freedom Riders" in Alabama. The Class of '61 graduated.

Dewey DeLee '61: "The person I best remember was our school bus driver Mrs. Hardwick. I was the first one on and the last one off. One morning we were listening to her rave about the beautiful spider webs all over the grass and trees. She said how marvelous and how beautiful and how only God could have made such a sight, and she got so carried away that she drove the bus into a ditch. She was really kind to me and was a great influence."

On the bus-going to State, 1962.

1962-The Berlin Wall, constructed in Aug. 1961, effectively stopped the exodus of East Germans to the west. President Kennedy stepped up aid to Vietnam. The Roman Catholic Archbishop of New Orleans ordered all Catholic schools in the Diocese to desegregate. Fond family and friends lined the aisles to say goodbye to the Class of 1962.

George Charlet, Jr. '62: "CHS! The happiest days of my life. Today I am married, have four children, I'm successful and blessed, but CHS will live forever in my heart and soul. Eagle football, track, conventions, 4-H, classes. We had fun. We were carefree. We were supported by our community, family, and friends. Mr. Norman Castello and the Malt Shop, Mr. "Sparky" Feierabend and the Snack Shack were a big part of our lives. Mr. Charles Rist Andrews and the Quarterback Club built our football field and track. Huey Richardson, our school custodian, would "lend" (give) a kid his last nickel if the kid looked sad. All are gone now.

I especially remember my classmate Larry O. Booty who gave his life for our country Jan. 20, 1966, joining a class of Americans we will always be thankful for.

The happiest days of our lives were celebrated at CHS, and they will live forever!

1963-Reeling from the near nuclear confrontation over missiles in Cuba in October of 1962, President Kennedy's administration had to deal with a bloody coup in Vietnam as the military overthrew the Diem government. More violence erupted in the South as civil rights demonstrations clashed with angry Southern whites. The peaceful "March on Washington," culminating with Dr. King's "I Have a Dream . . ." speech would come later in the summer. Meanwhile, the Class of '63, the 25th class to graduate from the (by now) aging school passed into history.

Sharon Pearce (Roberts) '63: "The most important thing was our winning State Championship in football. I was a cheerleader, and I'll never forget the pep rallies and riding on the bus to the games. There was so much school spirit. Pat Haydel ('63) lived across Plank Road from me, and she and Mildred Phillips ('64), and I would meet on the road and walk up to the new Eagle field. The excitement of those nights was really something."

1964-A sorrowful nation began the year with new President, Lyndon Johnson, after President Kennedy was assassinated in November, 1963. A sweeping civil rights act was passed, and Sen. Barry Goldwater was nominated to run against President Johnson. John McKeithen began his first term as governor. Whistling "Put on Your Red Dress, Baby," the Class of 1964 irreverently marched to its graduation.

Kathy Beauchamp (de Genere) '64: "We were in a cocoon, sheltered (mostly against our will) from the big bad issues that kids ten years later-and now-have to face. Our biggest worries were "Would we get to go to Beta Convention?" or "Would we have a date for the prom?" not whether we'd be sent to war or-possibly just as traumatic-to another school."

1965-After the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution, the "hawks" of the Johnson administration widened the Vietnam War by executive action. Beginning his own term, Johnson announced a promise for "a great society" in his State of the Union Address. Dr. King led the Selma March to protest discrimination in voting practices. President Johnson signed Medicare into law. The Class of 1965 accepted diplomas and left the creaky stage to meet their fate.

Kathy Doughty '65: "I remember group spirit and school spirit and a sense of pride and identity and unity that it doesn't seem kids have here anymore."

1966-The U.S. casualties in Vietnam included a 1962 CHS graduate, Larry Booty. The war had finally come home to Clinton, watched on the evening news every night. President Johnson's huge "guns and butter" budget was proposed. The Federal Civil Rights Commission concluded that "freedom of choice" (to be instituted at CHS in the coming fall) was not desegregating schools "with all deliberate speed." The Class of 1966 graduated.

Selwyn Blouin '66: "We thought life was simple and easy. We found out together that life could become rough and hard; then found out it could be made simple and easy again with the support of each other."

WITHIN THESE WALLS . . .

WITHIN THESE WALLS . . .

1967-Three Apollo astronauts were killed in a spacecraft fire during a simulated launch. Israeli and Arab forces battled near the Suez Canal. Red China exploded its first hydrogen bomb. The Class of 1967, largest class to graduate up to that time moved out into history.

Julia Ann Breitung (Bertin) '67: "The parts of the building I best remember are the girls' bathroom and the basement with the nickel coke machine. It would take your nickel and give no coke. If you were lucky a nice boy would buy you one.

My career was altered because Coach Polk would not let me take typing which he said was a crip course. As a result I'm a stock broker and not a sales rep."

1968-President Johnson announced he would not seek renomination. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was assassinated in Memphis, and in June, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, seeking the Democratic presidential nomination was assassinated in Los Angeles. The Vietnam War went on. Make way for the Class of '68.

Jackie Gross (Hughes) '68: "I'll never forget Mrs. "Yetta" Rogers. I loved that lady. She was the type of teacher you could respect; not like today when teachers try to be buddy-buddy with the students. She taught my daddy and she taught me."

1969-Richard M. Nixon was inaugurated the 37th President of the U.S. Apollo 11 astronauts walked on the moon. Sen. Edward Kennedy caused a fatal accident at Chappaquidick, Mass. The Class of 1969, the first class at C.H.S. to have a black member of its graduating body, finished its course.

W. C. "Billy" Percy, Jr. '69: "School spirit-community spirit. There was always a strong support of the school and about school activities. Great tradition and support of the school by the local community had special significance. The electricity in the air on Friday nights was a very exciting episode throughout my career in Clinton's schools."

1970-Four students protesting the U.S. invasion of Cambodia were slain by National Guardsmen at Kent State University in Ohio. Americans marked the first "Earth Day" to protest pollution. Two women generals, the first in U.S. history were named by President Nixon. The Class of 1970 graduated after East High and Clinton High were merged.

Ola Mae Williams (Pinkney) '70: "My life (as a student) at Clinton High was very brief. I was hurt, initially, because I wanted to graduate at East High. I made the best of that time (February to June 1971) and went on to college, but I came back to teach."

DESEGREGATION: CRISIS, CHANGE, CHALLENGE, COMPROMISE

In January of 1970, the East Feliciana school system, under federal court order, fully desegregated the parish's schools. East High ceased to exist. The seniors and juniors of both high schools attended Clinton High. Freshmen and sophomore attended Clinton Junior High on the Liberty Road (formerly East High). Many white students left the public school system to attend private schools which sprang up.

Desegregation, which had been the law of the land ever since Brown v. Board of Education, (1954), nevertheless found Clinton's schools un-prepared. Everything changed. Everyone had to compromise. Throughout the turbulent period teachers and students struggled to forge a new synthesis.

Within these walls, Clinton High continued to serve the children of the community as they learned to know each other and themselves in a new system.

Some 1971 graduates.

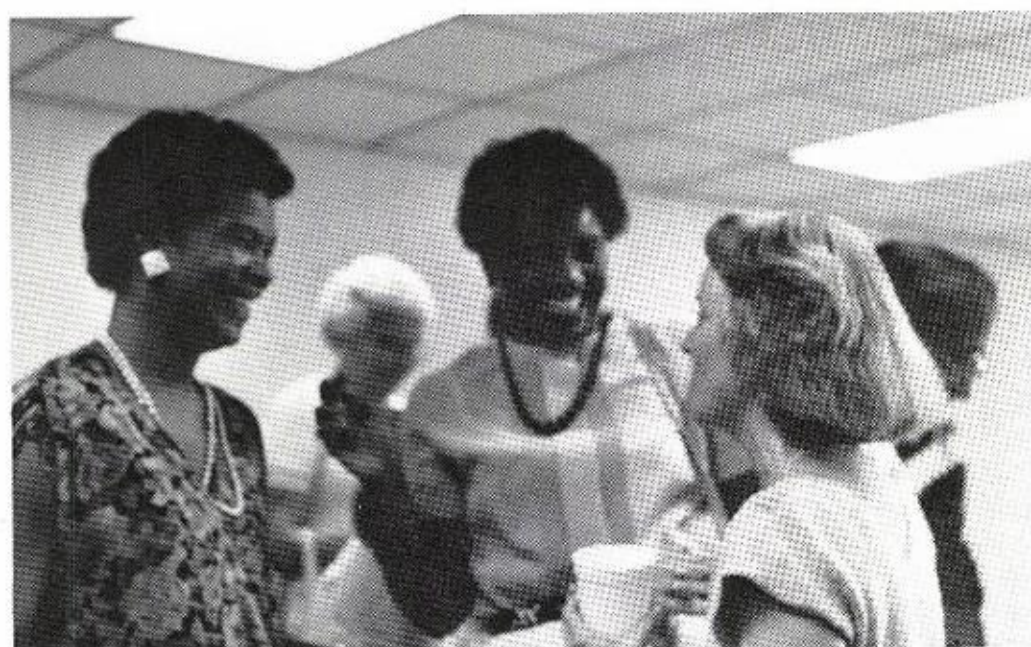

Sixteen years after the transition, teachers and students gave their impressions and memories for this commemorative section.

Nelwynne Tynes: "I think we're better people for having done it . . . Some white parents have said to me 'I wish I'd kept my children in the public schools to start with.' Some are coming back."

Ola W. Pinkney: "It had an effect on me 'cause I'm back here. I'm very proud to say . . . I'm a graduate of Clinton High."

Earnestine Gordon: "We had to use our common sense, and common judgement (and sometimes our sixth sense) during integration."

Calvin Chapman: "Every body was scared of the social factors. Coach Polk asked me to ride the gym bus both ways as a peacemaker, as a chaperone. For the first two years everything was lovely, but riding that bus put a strain on me."

Mary Lee T. Wilson: "(We needed) more help from the central office. The employers, were to administer the public school system, but their children attended private schools. You couldn't very well have the interest of the public schools at heart. You won't put in the extra effort."

Helen Franklin: "I didn't have any resentment nor a chip on my shoulder but I felt my identity had been taken from me. The adjustment was very, very hard."

Dee Dee Hodges: "The transition was hardest on the students. They are the ones whose lives were turned upside down."

Debbie Kemp: "I always thought the school board was the biggest sell out of the whole thing. I know of at least two cases when they interviewed teachers they told them to take it easy, the kids were dumb. They weren't helping us at all."

Doug Beauchamp: "One of the big things I had worried about was getting the correct education. I wasn't too worried about the social aspects. The reality was just the opposite."

Theresa Berryhill: "We were allowed to learn about others. Maybe I thought 'Whites are perfectionists. Every thing they do; their schools are perfect.' After 16 years I can say: people are people."

Kathleen H. Hopewell: "There are some things in my life I am very proud of, and one of them is staying at Clinton High School . . . We were ostracized and called ugly names by other white kids because we stayed."

1971-The Supreme Court ruled that busing might be used as a means to achieve racial balance in schools. The voting age was lowered to 18. The U.N. seated Communist China and expelled Taiwan. The Class of 1971, the first majority black class, graduated from Clinton High.

Patty Jo Charlet (Dart) '71: "I start crying when I think of all the pep rallies. I was a cheerleader, and school spirit was so important to me. When the schools integrated and all the extracurricular activities were abolished it almost broke my heart, but I'm glad I stayed."

1972-President Nixon became the first U.S. President to visit China. Edwin Edwards became governor. Gov. George Wallace was shot in Laurel, Md. at a political rally. Five men were arrested while attempting to "bug" Democratic Committee Headquarters in the Watergate Complex. The Supreme Court declared the death penalty unconstitutional. The War in Vietnam went on. One of the few extra-curricular activities allowed the Class of '72 was their graduation.

Bridget Matthews '72: "I was one of the first "freedom of choice" transfers from East H.S. in the 9th grade. There were just a few of us, and it was like stepping off into a whole new world. I can adapt, and by the time I graduated I was a part of CHS. I was president of my class."

1973-Firings, resignations, protestations of "I am not a crook," marked Nixon's response to the mounting scandal of Watergate. The twelve year Vietnam Conflict ended. The supreme Court ruled that abortion in the first six months of pregnancy was legal. The Class of '73 became history.

Debbie Kemp '73: "My strongest memory of the building is of the chemistry room. It was like a combination of Dr. Frankenstein and the nuclear age, on a time line between the old and the new."

1974-Impeachment hearings against Nixon began. In July the House would vote to impeach. In August President Nixon resigned, becoming the first U.S. president to do so. The country reeled with shock. Gerald Ford was sworn in as the 38th president and immediately pardoned Nixon. The Class of '74 graduated.

John "Joe" Rouchon, Jr. '74: "Being a member of one of the classes that went to Clinton High twice, once in the 7th grade before desegregation and in the 11th and 12th grades, my memories of Clinton High School center around the teachers and administrators. Desegregation was an overblown happening. It worried the parents a lot more than the students."

1975-U.S. civilians were evacuated as Saigon fell to the North Vietnamese. Vietnamese refugees fled to America. Former presidential aides John Erlichman and H. R. Haldeman were found guilty of charges stemming from the Watergate cover-up. America's values and self-esteem fell to a low ebb. Out into the world marched the Class of '75.

Laura Byrnes (Moody) '75: "The years I spent at Clinton High School were a time of rebellion. I, and many of my classmates were attempting to establish our own set of morals as well as discover who we were. For me those years were not pleasant because of the confusion that existed in my own mind and the confusion that I felt around me. Since that time I have come to find peace and a meaning for my life in Jesus Christ. A new building has changed the physical atmosphere of our school. It is my prayer that a new sense of depth and purpose is being kindled there."

1976-The United States, fresh from the divisive conflicts over civil rights, Watergate, and Vietnam, and feeling every year, celebrated the 200th anniversary of its independence. A year-long birthday party was declared. Gov. Edwards was re-elected. The "Bi-centennial Class" finished at C.H.S.

Jay W. Kemp '76: "I was in a work program and only went to school four hours a day in the 11th and 12th grade. I got moved around, only went to school at old CHS those two years. I felt like I missed out on high school the way you think of high school."

1977-Jimmy Carter of Georgia was inaugurated President. He pardoned Vietnam draft evaders. The first woman was ordained an Episcopal priest. The death penalty was brought back. Class of '77 moved on down the line.

Joyce Armstead '77: "We worried that the old building would collapse. We also worried about getting jobs and having enough money. The basement holds fond memories."

1978-The U.S. Senate voted to return the Panama Canal Zone to Panama in 1999. "Proposition 13" to limit government spending by severely cutting property tax rates passed in California. Inflation and unemployment soared. The Class of '78 graduated, the 40th class to do so from the weary old school.

Regina Kilbourne '78: "By the time I got to Clinton High (11th to 12th grades) the building was in pretty bad shape. It could have used some renovation.

Band under Mr. Jackson was the most enjoyable activity, and my favorite class was world history under Mrs. Gordon."

1979-A nuclear accident at Three Mile Island, Pa., allowed radioactive gas to escape. The worst airline disaster in American history occurred in Chicago. Pope John Paul II visited the U.S. Sixty-three Americans were taken hostage at the U.S. Embassy in Teheran. The U.S.S.R. invaded Afghanistan. The creaking floors of the auditorium creaked once again as the Class of '79 began the decade of graduation.

Angel Matthews (Butler) '79: "CHS was just right; it was the way I think high school should be for everybody. The faculty and student body were all on the same wave length. We just fit. The building was old, and we didn't have air conditioning, but we still learned and had fun. The building wasn't important in what it didn't have. It was our school, and it gave us a lot."

In the band room prior to a football game, 1977.

1980-Six U.S. Embassy aides escaped from Iran with Canadian help, but an abortive raid to free the other hostages failed. The U.S. boycotted the Olympics in Moscow. Ronald Reagan defeated President Carter in a Republican sweep. David Treen, the first Republican elected as governor in over a century took office in Louisiana. The Class of '80 graduated.

Hanna Williams '80: "Our class was basically serious, not a lot of horseplay. Everybody was anxious to graduate. The auditorium was a great place to hang out at recess. We had tough teachers, and I feel well prepared for life."

1981-Just after President Reagan took the oath of office Iran freed the 52 hostages. President Reagan was shot, but recovered, as did Pope John Paul after an assassination attempt in Rome. The first female justice of the Supreme Court, Sandra Day O'Connor was nominated. Prince Charles wed Lady Diana Spencer. On a hot night, the Class of '81 graduated.

Darryl Buhler '81: "I think of the history associated with CHS where two generations of my family (both my parents, my wife, and me) have been educated.

My fondest memory is of receiving the American Farmer degree in 1983 (I qualified for this in high school) at Kansas City, Mo., in front of 25,000 people and saying "I'm proud to be from Clinton."

1982-Great Britain won the Falklands War against Argentina. Warring factions in Lebanon heated up the civil conflict there. Soviet leader Brezhnev died. The first space shuttle completed a five-day trip. The Class of '82 took off into the future.

Cheryl Lynn Matthews '82: "I remember the way the stairs creaked and being up on the balcony during pep rallies and hollering down stairs. I appreciate the relationships between the teachers and the students and how we all participated in activities."

1983-The Supreme Court ruled that discrimination against older Americans is unconstitutional. Sally Ride became the first U.S. woman in space. Record floods left many homeless in South Louisiana. A rapidly aging Clinton High graduated the Class of '83.

Calvin Chapman, Jr. '83: "I remember trying to decide which college to attend and what my subsequent career would be. The old building looks like a penitentiary. It's old and creaky with creaky floors. The band is my greatest memory. I really enjoyed the halftime shows."

WITHIN THESE WALLS . . .

WITHIN THESE WALLS . . .

The 1983-84 Homecoming Court.

Johnny Sparks-1985 graduate

1984-Edwin Edwards decisively defeated Dave Treen for an unprecedented third term as governor, and then incurred hostility by denying his belief in Christ's rising from the dead. (He later recanted). President Reagan and Vice-president George Bush faced Democratic nominees Walter Mondale and Geraldine Ferraro for the nation's two highest positions. Class of '84, go 'head on.

Janice Armstead '84: "Our class was like a family. We had a serious attitude.

I'll always remember the seniors painting the stage curtain in the auditorium.

I feel I was well prepared for college."

1985-The governor of the state, Edwin Edwards, was under federal indictment. Ronald Reagan, a popular, charismatic president was in his second term. War, terrorism, and violence threatened around the world, and the last class was graduated from the red brick school.

Johnny Sparks '85: "We partied a lot and looked forward to finding out what life would hold for us. My favorite part of high school was the agriculture program and F.F.A. I really haven't been gone long enough to miss it much."

AND HERE WE END:

I am just a building.
The life that surged within me,
Clinton High School,
Has moved on.
Some of it was carried away
by every student
by every teacher
by every helper.
All learned,
taught,
helped

Within my walls.
Now, emptied of all but memories,
I await the unknown,
But in them,
And on these pages,
I will live forever.

... AND A FINAL NOTE

When the Betas accepted the responsibility of sponsoring the yearbook, we did not visualize the tremendous amount of time and "hard" work that would be involved. There were times when we felt defeated, but we never gave up. The long struggle helped us to realize that we were "fighters", not "quitters".

"A New Beginning" became a reality as a result of the loyalty and devotion of present and former Eagles and the support of a concerned community. Without them all would have been futile.

We would like to extend special thanks to the following persons for their contributions to Eagles' Nest '86: Mildred Worrell and Sue Charlet, historical section; Ellen Fudge, advertisement; George Charlet, photographer; Tony Rouchon, construction; Bill Myers, sales representative; Reba Staples, sales; John Harris, advertisement; Gwen Wyre, Typist; Bert Wyre, Diane Branch, and Ida Hayes, concessions; and our yearbook advisers, Mr. Douglas Beauchamp, Mrs. P. Matthews, and Mrs. D. Williams.
